

‘COLLOSAL CHALLENGES LEADS TO ULTIMATE SUCCESS’

It was a blissful day for me, because our Principal sir announced that a quiz programme was going to be held very soon. He also announced that a student from our class is going to organize the quiz programme. It was a great confusion that who is going to be selected as the organizer of the programme. A few moments later, a girl from our class suggested to prepare chits. Everyone liked her idea and started to prepare chits of their name. Everyone prepared chit and submitted to sir.

Sir took the chits with him and told us that he will shuffle the chits after the school hours. I saw each and every face and noticed that some students were excited to win the chance while some were not interested in this. Finally sir came with chits after the school hours. I saw goose bumps on my hand at that moment. Sir called our class topper and ordered her to pick up one chit. Everyone was looking her hand very eagerly and when she read the name, I was amazed because it was my name.

Sir called me in front of all and suggested me to organize the programme in a grand manner. I hesitated for a moment and told sir that I am unable to organize the programme alone so I asked someone's help. Sir gave me opportunity to call anyone, I called my best friend. We both felt very happy.

We started to prepare questions for quiz which was based on life history of Dr.Kalam. We selected hard and confusing questions. We both almost took three days to prepare the questions, really it was a challenging task for us.

Finally, the most awaiting day came when the programme was going to held. Everyone gathered in the hall and every face was having a unique expression. A small video-clip was displayed on the life history of Dr.Kalam by my partner. The programme commenced and I started asking questions. There was a tough competition among all the teams. Finally the students of 8th class won the competition with 19 points and were awarded with 1101Rs. and later on I was appreciated by our Principal sir. The programme was dispersed by distributing sweets to all the students for their active performance in the competition. By far, I think this was the most challenging assignment I have ever done.

‘ A CHANCE TO REVEL IN NATIVE LITERATURE ’

Mumbai, 17th March .

A literature festival, also known as a book festival or writers festivals is a regular gathering of writers and readers, typically on an annual basis in a particular city . With objectives of promoting the authors book and giving information of literature and writing. ‘Gateway Literature Festival’ was held on 14th – 15th February at Shivaji Park .The programme was a grand success and the spectators were inspired and motivate towards the literature of regional languages and writings in India.

Now, on 16th March a ‘Regional Literature Festival’ was conducted at Lonawala colony in Mumbai . This programme was conducted by ‘Youth Association’ working in that locality .They were inspired and motivated by the programme of ‘Gateway Literature Festival’ . In that programme ‘Dinesh Bharadwaj’ was Chief Guest who is well known poet in Hindi literature. Not only ‘Dinesh Bharadwaj’ but also famous poets like ‘Jayshankar Prasad, Vinay Sharma, Vikas Parihar’, were also renowned poet in Hindi literature. The programme was started by ‘Saraswati Vandana’ and by lightning the lamp.

The session included the discussion on perumal and freedom of experections. All the concerned authorities who were present during the programme presented beautiful lines of poetry in Hindi which touched the heart of people and every spectator started rethinking about the Indian languages and their writings. When Shri Dinesh Bharadwaj gave a beautiful speech on the topic ‘Krushak Gaaan’. At the end ‘Dinesh Bharadwaj’ said that “It is only the time to learn various things if this time will escape then we will never get this chance”. All the spectator got inspired from the speech of ‘Dinesh Bharadwaj’. Even small children got motivated from the speech and all of them said that, “We can’t made this our profession, but we will give more and more importance towards the literature and Indian languages”. At last by the inspirational speech of Dinesh Bharadwaj everyone got motivated.

‘ The folly realized by king ’

Once upon a time, there was king who was ruling Dholakpur village. The village was very cheerful before he become a king of that village. He was very cruel and unmerciful towards his people. He used to do injustice and knavery with his people. As he become a king, the whole village suffered with gloomy days. He was a good hunter and used to do hunting of animals for his enjoyment.

One day, with a good hope that he will hunt a animal, he went to the forest. As he went to the forest, he started searching for the animals . But he didn’t find any animal and so he lost his hope. He was very unhappy since he did not hunt any animal. Finally, he decided to go back to his kingdom and started return journey. While coming from the forest suddenly he heard a sound, he stopped. He noticed that it was a peacock’s sound. Immediately he started looking here and there. After some time he found a peacock who was standing beside the river.

He came to know that it was an exceptional peacock in the forest. He felt very happy that at least he got one animal to hunt. Without wasting any time, he rushed to his horse and taken out his crossbow and arrows. However, he went some what distance away from the peacock and hide behind a bush. He taken one arrow and aimed at that peacock. He waited for a chance, as he got the chance immediately he released the arrow and that arrow hit the peacock. That peacock suddenly fell down and king felt very happy that finally he hunted a rare peacock. He started moving slowly towards that peacock with his soldiers.

The passer by who was passing along the river suddenly saw that peacock fallen down beside the river. Immediately he rushed upto it and relieved that peacock. But all the scenario was observed by the king. King become very angry with him. Immediately king rushed upto that boy and ordered his soldier him and send to the jail. King felt very unhappy since he did not hunt any animal and came back to his kingdom with his soldier.

Next day, that boy's family came to know that king had arrested their child and send the jail. Without wasting any time, they gathered all the villagers and told them that their child was arrested by king without any reason. People become more aggressive with king's action. Thereafter, they went to the king's court and asked king, "why had you arrested their child without any reason?” Then king replied that I had arrested that boy since he relieved my peacock.

One old man came front and told that their child had done a good work by relieving that peacock. You know that animals are not only living being but also our best friends. But king refused to the villagers and asked his soldiers to send all the villagers out of his fort. All the villagers came out of the fort with gloomy faces.

One day, king again went to the forest without his soldiers. He went deep into the forest and started searching for the animals. He saw a deer beside the lake. He took out his arrow and aimed that deer. Suddenly one snake came near to him and about to bite him. But that peacock came and fought with the snake and killed that snake. That peacock saved king’s life and king realized that it was that peacock to whom he tried to hunt. Immediately he went to his village and vowed before villagers never to be vain thereafter and asked his soldiers to released that boy from the jail.

‘Narendra Singh breaks long jump record at Regional Sports Meet’

Mumbai, 29th December.

Regional Sports Meet was organized in Mumbai between 26th December to 28th December, 2019. Many Sports Events were organized at the regional sports meet namely 400 meters relay, long jump, high jump, etc. Many players from different schools across the vidarbha region had participated in those events. Among those events, long jump attracted a large number of spectators. As there was a tough competitions between the participants.

Now, Narendra Singh has become one of the top most player. Everyone congratulated him on his success and entire stadium echoed with the name of Narendra Singh.

Counterview:

VIEW: MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK.

I strongly disagree with the view – Many hands make light work. The work will not get appropriate glisten, if many hands involved in it. It makes the work spurious and squalid but not magnificent. As a result, the work will not reach its snug accessibility and can't be the perfect one as many views have involved in it .

As we know very well that everyone in this world possess different competence and unequalled ways of doing work. As there is a involvement of separate opinions, abilities and talents in a single project leads to a perilous situation among the members of the same group. This perilous situation like a brawl will also destroy the platonic relationship among the members. They will start to denounce each other for the utter failure of their combined work. In this manner the work can't be ensconced without co-ordination and co-operation.

The work will not be successful without understanding, one another co-operation and good co-ordination among the persons involved in it. Also, it will not be perfect and surmount as it had done tragically . All this will increase surliness among the members. As a result, everyone's interest will ruin and they will try to put their prodigal efforts. All these will spoil the accountability of the work and reciprocates in a utter failure.

Though there are many hands involved in single work, it will not be simplified but it will face more complication. Unique ideas possessed by everyone will not satisfy others expectations as all have their own style of doing work and it will be arduous for the combination of all ideas. As a result, the combination of all ideas will not match or applicable on a single project. All these enrage every person in a group and it will lead to be mournful situation

So, if we want to do mystique work, individual should be given a chance for a single project.

‘ Vijayadashmi Celebration in Yogi Society ’

Nagpur, 26th October, 2020.

Vijayadashmi was celebrated in Yogi society on 25th October 2020 in a grand manner. Vijayadashmi is an occasion, for a new beginning, it is considered an auspicious day to start learning any form of art and to being school. The chief guest of the programme was the secretary of the society. A majestic rally was also organized on this occasion.

A huge and splendid effigy of king Ravana was prepared by the people. The ground was decorated with colourful flowers and buntings. Besides, there were many stalls of eatables and toys in the society. People enjoyed chat, panipuri and ice-cream, etc., small children bought balloons and toys for their enjoyment. For the entertainment of people, dance show was also conducted where small children shown their dance.

Suddenly, the noise turned into the roar when the procession carrying Ram, Laxman and seeta came there. The whole atmosphere was filled with the slogan, 'Bhagwan Ram Chandra Ki Jai'. people were filled with enthusiasm. After that Ram reached near to the effigy and took some rounds of it. Then Ram moved far away from the idle and took out his arrow and burnt its tip and shot it at the idle of Ravana. Within few seconds the idle of king Ravana caught and there were the exploded sounds of various crackers. Again the slogan were started by the people.

Within ten – twelve minutes, the idle of Ravana was turned into ash. After witnessing the event the crowd got dispersed and the programme got the memorable accomplishment.

EXPAND THE THEME:-

NEITHER A BORROWER NOR A LENDER BE

Neither a borrower nor a lender be . It means one should neither borrow money from other, nor should one lend money to other. When you give money to someone, you are sure to spoil the relationship between you and that person. One should never borrow money. If you don't have enough money, make do with what little you have , rather than spoiling your good reputation by borrowing money from someone .

Many persons who never save money earned by them also get their emolument wasted in unwanted activities. They always spend the money only for a moment of gratification. After loss of all money they have, they suffer from brainstorm and at last they decide to borrow money from someone. And sluggishly, it becomes their habit to borrow money.

This type of people who act as a bonhomie , flatter the lender from money. But when the time comes to return it, there will be big brawl between lender and borrower . It reciprocates in the false relation. By borrowing and lending money with bravura leads to spoil the good relations. By borrowing money or lending money, one can lose self-respect and also worship.

While borrowing money, borrower shows as they are very faithful and venerable to them. But, when time comes to return it, the borrower shows his inhuman demeanour towards the lender. Instead of giving money, the lender should give good advices which can help borrower to overcome the problems . Help is a real medicine to cure the wound but only in right way . So, the advice given by proverb – ‘Neither A Borrower Nor A Lender Be’ is full of practical wisdom. So , rather than sharing money during their gloomy days , you can share good views and also practical help in their problems to overcome it .

STORY WRITING:

‘A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE’

This incident took place a year back, but still I remember every bit of that incident. It was really a horrible experience. But then also little amusing.

Once, extra classes were conducted after school hours. Sir taught us English subject and announced to become ready for examination which was going to be conducted next day. After two hours of classes, sir told us to attend for study hours. Whole class was divided into groups of maximum three students. Every group got individual room. I sat with my group in a corner room. We had involved fully in reading, writing and discussion. During that we had forgotten everything. One hour had passed and it was time to go home. Door of my room was closed. Guard went to every group to inform to go home. But he forgotten to inform us.

Everyone went to their home. We were still in that room only. I noticed that there was complete silence in the nearer rooms. I went near to the window and opened it. I saw watchman is locking the main gate of the school. I got confused and looked at the wall clock. It was about 6.30- time to close the school. I shouted and tried to call watchman from window. Fortunately he heard my voice and opened the school again. He came to our room and got shocked that we might be locked in the school itself. He became little angry but then took us outside and helped us to make a phone call to our parents. Next few minutes no one said anything.

Within ten minutes our parents had arrived to pick up us. “Next time be careful”, said watchman. “Extremely sorry”, I said. Then we went to our home and that night, we three got fever s we had afraid of that incident at the school.

Next time we never closed the door even at the home also and never missed to have a look on watch. This incident taught me to be alert every time.

EXPANSION OF THE THEME:

“CUT YOUR COAT ACCORDING TO YOUR CLOTH”

This maxim is of great account and tells us to not to spend more than what we earn i.e means to live within our means .If you give a piece of cloth to a tailor to make a coat, the tailor will first measure the cloth and then decide what kind of coat has to be made out of it. He will not be able to make a coat that requires more material than the cloth provided to him. From this context , we learn to have contentment . Same is the case with our income and expenses. Our expenses always be within our limits. Otherwise , we will fall in debt of difficulties. The proverb thus tells us not to spend more than our limits.

The proverb emphasis the meaning of our income and expenses. Nowadays we are facing the problem of lack of sufficient money .A person who spend more than his income ,will fall into trouble and have to face misfortunes. Whenever someone is falling sick, at that time he/she does not have the sufficient money for proper treatment . So the proverb bid us to live within our limits.

If we are acquiring money, then we should be in a position to use it properly. We should also try to lay by for financial difficulties/ crisis that may arise / bring about in the future. We should not spend on the thing which we does not require. If we have old things and that is still good and in a position to still use, then we should be in a practice to cope with that things only. Because it is said that ‘Old is Gold’. Therefore for a satisfied, comfortable and honourable existence in the world. One must consciously cut his coats according to his cloths and must not profiligate once resource.

“Waterborne Diseases-A Threat”

A very cordial morning to one and all here. We all are well aware that we have gathered here to witness the observance of splendid global event that is ‘World Health Day’ which is being celebrated on 7th April every year with the aim of attaining universal health coverage.

It is said that ‘Health is Wealth’ but in my opinion, Health is somewhat greater than Wealth. The fact to wonder is that 15 million children under the age of 5 years die every year from diseases caused by drinking contaminated water. According to WHO and UNICEF reports ,almost 2.5 billion people lack access to valuable health conditions. Thus ,on this propitious occasion it is my privilege today to speak to you on the topic ‘Waterborne Diseases- A Threat ‘ and simultaneously I would like to voice a few questions that are essential to answer at this point of time.

Now the question is what are waterborne diseases? Waterborne diseases are conditions caused by pathogenic micro-organisms that are transmitted in water. Water is life but now it is the source of the most of the diseases like cholera, diarrhea, typhus, meningitis, etc. Not the water, but the human activities are the cause of these diseases as water is contaminated either directly or indirectly by human deeds like improper sewage disposal, use of toxic chemicals for the plants, dumping of chemical wastes by industries, discharge of radioactive wastes, oil spills, throwing of plastics in water sources and swimming, washing and cleaning in water reservoirs.

Are the humans not killing themselves? Shall we let this wonderful country of ours be ruined by the disorders and diseases? Shall we not make our country a truly healthier and happier nation? These are the questions we have to ask ourselves today. It is still not too late, so let us all pledge together to make the difference.

DENTAL CHECK-UP CAMP HELD IN SCHOOL

Mumbai, March 6th 2019 .

On the eve of National Dentist Day Model school, Mumbai collaborated with a team of senior dentists led by Dr. Shivam and Dr. Shweta to organize a free check- up awareness camp in the school premises .The team of dentists along with para -medical staff carried out a comprehensive dental check-up on students from class 1st to 8th.

The doctors brought a well-equipped dental chair and examination tools to examine the students well. They spoke to the students about the importance of oral and dental care and explained in detail about the root cause of the dental and the oral health problems. Also, the camp included dental awareness talk, educating students about common dental ailments especially stressing on tooth decay and gum diseases and the measures used to prevent them. The students were further briefed about how to avoid toothache related problems .Also , the students were made aware about the eating patterns and food choices which can lead to tooth decay.

The young students cherished the chance to interact with the dentists to enquire and gain knowledge about their oral health and to resolve their queries based on dental hygiene. The students who needed further treatment were given referral slips.

This camp will bring a change in demeanour of the students and they would now start taking preventive measures to avoid dental and oral problems. The school staff and children thanked the dentists and para-medical staff for rendering their selfless service to the school.
